Anera delivers trusted, high-quality supplements backed by science and regulatory excellence.

Anera's powdered supplements are formulated for maximum absorption, purity, and flexibility. Unlike other forms, powders absorb faster, deliver nutrients more efficiently, and allow for adjustable dosing. They contain no fillers or additives, ensuring pure, effective supplementation.

Size 0 capsules hold 500–700 mg of powder, measuring 21 mm in length. They are commonly used in dietary supplements due to their larger capacity.

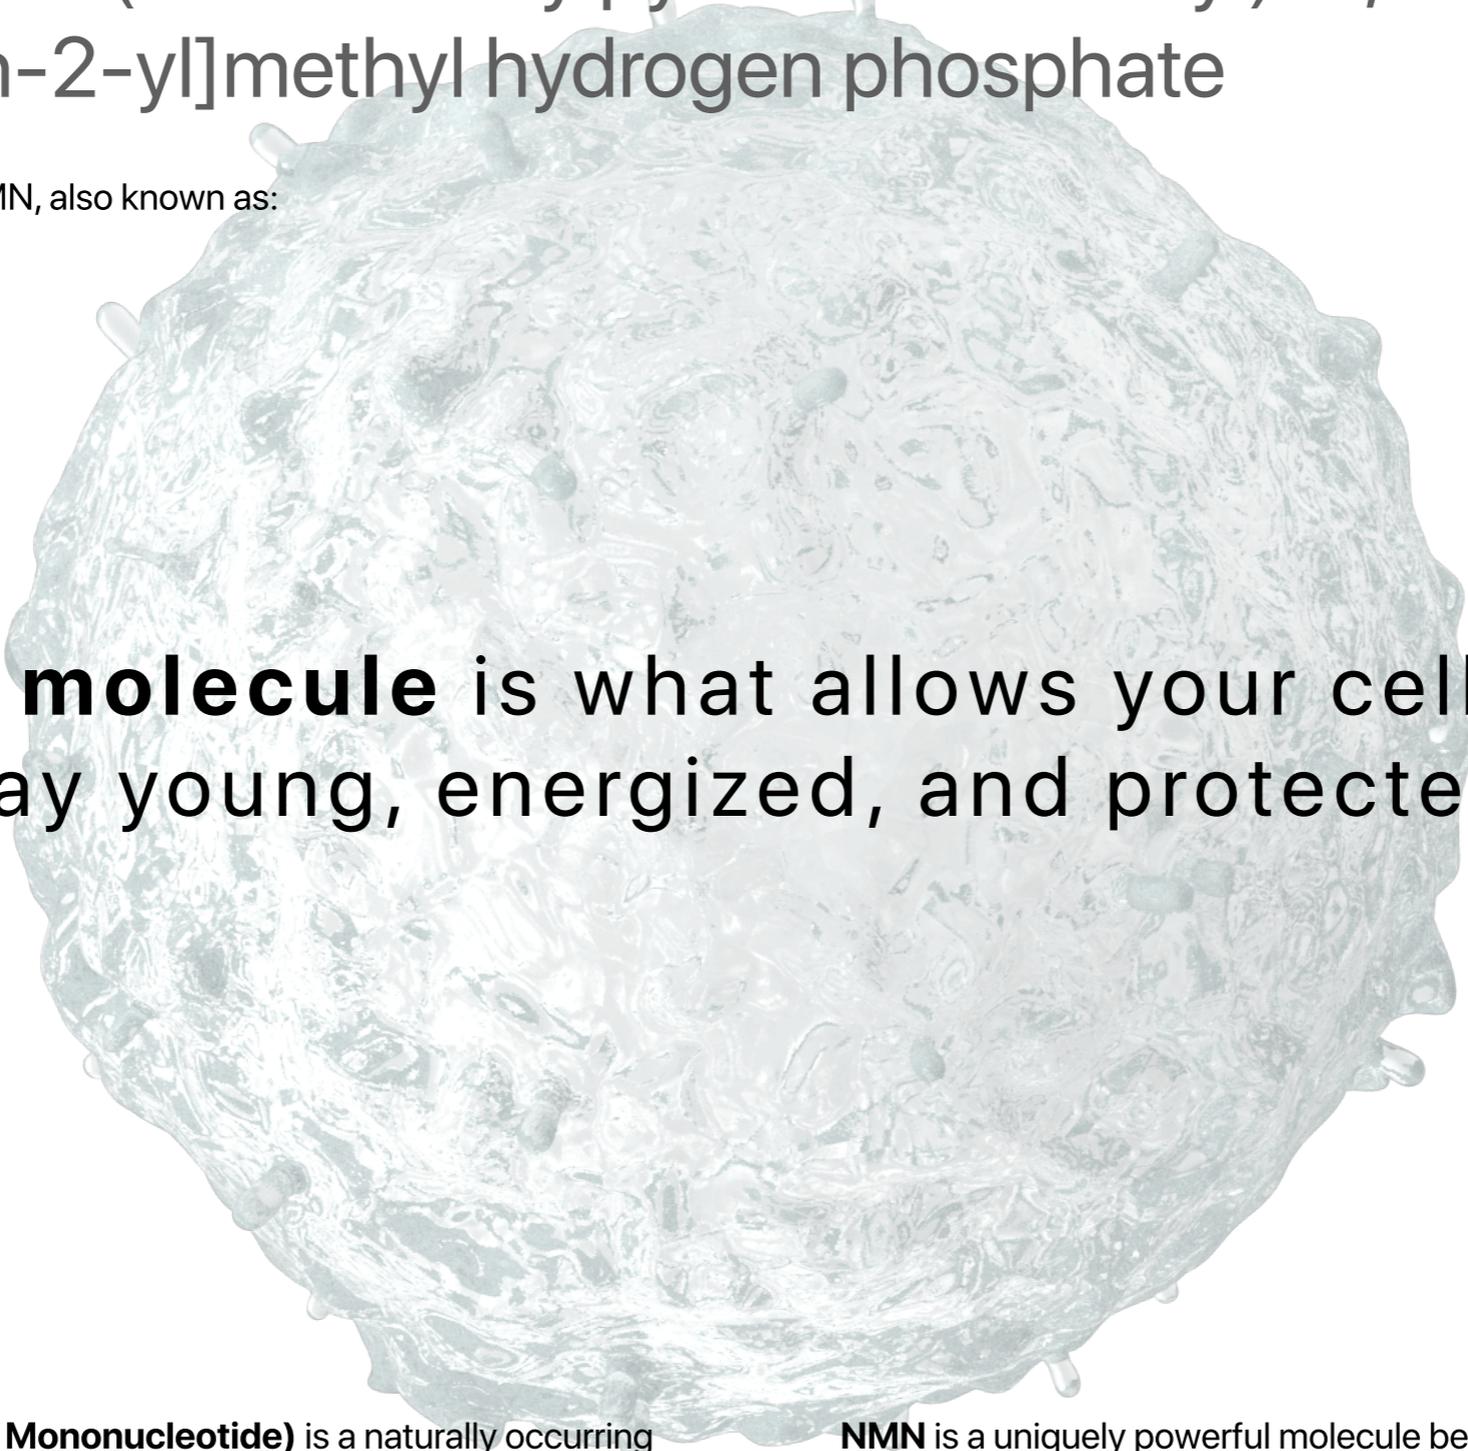

Size 1 capsules hold 400–500 mg of powder, measuring 19 mm in length. They are slightly smaller and easier to swallow while still providing an effective dosage.

Anera has an NPN (Natural Product Number) to ensure its supplements meet Health Canada's safety, efficacy, and quality standards. This certification confirms that Anera's products are GMP-certified, third-party tested, and legally approved for sale as natural health products in Canada.

[(2R,3S,4R,5R)-5-(3-carbamoylpyridin-1-ium-1-yl)-3,4-dihydroxyoxolan-2-yl]methyl hydrogen phosphate

Is the IUPAC (chemical) name for NMN, also known as:
Nicotinamide Mononucleotide

This molecule is what allows your cells to stay young, energized, and protected.

NMN (Nicotinamide Mononucleotide) is a naturally occurring molecule that serves as a direct precursor to NAD⁺, a vital coenzyme essential for energy production, DNA repair, and healthy aging.

NMN is a uniquely powerful molecule because it directly boosts NAD⁺ levels, which are essential for activating longevity genes, supporting cellular repair, and maintaining youthful energy as we age.

The Mission That Drives Us

Anera was born from pain and purpose.

I struggled with severe foot pain that left me feeling powerless, tired, and disconnected from the life I once knew. When traditional solutions failed, I turned to longevity science searching for something deeper, something real. That's when I discovered NMN, and it changed everything.

Within weeks, I felt renewed energy, strength, and clarity. My body began to heal, and so did my sense of purpose.

But I quickly realized... this wasn't just about me.
This is about all of us.

We are not meant to decay
We are meant to evolve, adapt, and thrive.

I created Anera to help people take back control of their health. Every product we offer is built with science, purity, and integrity. No fillers. No fluff. Just real solutions for a better life.

This is more than a business.
This is a mission to help heal humanity, one cell at a time.
